

Agency for Health Care Administration Joint Training for Assisted Living Facilities

Wednesday, March 28 – Tampa
Friday, March 30 – Orlando
Wednesday, April 4 – Weston
Wednesday, April 11 – Tallahassee

Florida Health Care Association, Florida Assisted Living Association, and Leading Age Florida (formerly FAHSA) bring you this first-ever one-day joint training designed especially for ALFs. This training will equip ALF providers with the latest, most authoritative information for maintaining successful operations, strong resident services, and safety in a changing environment.

Agency for Health Care Administration experts Polly Weaver, Kim Smoak, and Catherine Anne Cone will provide insights on critical areas:

- 2012 legislative focuses including new legislation proposals, broader implementation of a new survey process, and an updated and streamlined regulation set
- regulatory expectations across a broad spectrum of areas including managing adverse behaviors, crisis intervention, appropriate placement, training requirements, and state training responsibilities
- review of the Agency's background screening results database and the Agency's efforts with other groups to improve resident outcomes for the assisted living community
- industry trends including the new resident-focused survey process, abbreviated survey thresholds and tasks, modified regulation set categorization, and the Z-tags
- criminal history screening developments and resources
- Florida's ALF Medicaid Waiver Program status update

This program is targeted to assisted living facility executive directors, administrators, nurse leaders, charge nurses, social workers, therapists, activity directors, consultants, ARNPs, Physician Assistants, Medical Directors, dietary staff, and representatives of long term care ombudsmen and state surveyors.

Register today to attend this informative training and earn 6 hours of continuing education. Use the registration form on the reverse, or visit the Events Calendar at www.fhca.org for online registration and the full brochure.

Exclusive sponsorship opportunities are available for companies interested in marketing their products and services to this diverse audience. Contact Kendall Peddie at kpddie@fhca.org or (850) 224-3907 for more information.
